WINDWARD ISLANDS

Island hopping, adventure, exploring, trade winds, ...

The Windward Islands in the Caribbean consist of more than 90 islands. Since the time of early explorers and pirate a sailing paradise with many white beaches, volcanoes, jungles and beautiful bays.

So get on board and sail for paradise with the Haynes family. The idea is not to set a fixed route but we will see every day what the next islands are highlights. It is planned to give plenty of time for snorkeling, kayaking, hiking and chilling. In other words, we bring you closer to land and people and give you plenty of opportunities to get to know the Caribbean culture up close.

The Route

- GRENADA
- THE GRENADINES
- SAINT VINCENT
- SAINT LUCIA
- MARTINIQUE

The Green Island of Grenada is our starting port. We will sail approx. 200 nautical miles along the Windward Island chain with our final destination being the port of Fort de France, Martinique.

We will spend 14 days sailing the Grenadines. Tropical Caribbean Island Paradise with 32 islands partially uninhabited; shallow coral reefs, white sandy beaches lined with palm trees, and turquoise waters. The volcanic islands of Saint Vincent and Saint Lucia are also scheduled as stops.

The distances between the islands are between a few nautical miles to a maximum of 35 nautical miles per day. With the stable trade winds of 15 to 20 knots there should be best sailing conditions.
